Screen To Gif is a free screen capture software that converts your desktop/videoscreen into a really high quality animated Gif file. It offers you the possibility to convert pictures into animated gifs with an unlimited number of frames and images, and you can even record screen with audio. If you have only one or two pictures to animate, then this is probably the best program to do it with! Advanced Screen Capture: Screen To Gif has the most advanced screen capture software and lets you capture/capture exactly what you want. You can do it with the mouse or keyboard. With a single click, you can select the area of your desktop that you want to capture/record/play/capture, save it as a JPG, GIF or PNG file and that's it. If you want to take a picture or record a video, you can do it easily with the mouse, or you can use the keyboard to navigate in the interface and select the screen capture areas you want. A lot of options: The program can do so much more than just capturing the screen. You can record your desktop with music, or you can define the size of the animation (frame by frame). You can do frame by frame, even if the animation is smooth, or you can use frame by frame and create animated GIFs. You can insert a picture for every frame or a image for every frame. You can modify the speed of the animation (slower or faster). You can insert text. You can make a copy of your animation. Screen To Gif has a quick start option, so that you can directly capture your screen or record a video in no time. You can even add a caption to the image/video. All this is made possible by the option to include a preview of the animation in your screen capture. Automatic menu: Screen To Gif has a full of great features and functions and all that is possible is contained in a clean menu. No more need to scroll through different windows to see what you can do with the program. All the main functions are located in the menu and are very easy to access and use. Flexible interface: The interface of the program is very flexible and allows the user to change the color theme to his liking. The program offers multiple color schemes to match the user's taste. In addition to the color theme, you can choose the background image for the capture window (

Screen To Gif is a highly intuitive application meant to aid users in generating their own animations. The program features multiple options for customization, such as adding text strings or sepia effects. A whole world of customization The application records the current display screen, saves each screenshot as a frame and allows users to edit these pictures before generating the output file. One of the very nice features of this tool is that the built-in "Editor" is very powerful and allows for a lot of user-customization. Short text descriptions or captions can be inserted. A really great function is that users have complete control over the display timers. One could, for example, create an animation that displays a certain message for just a few frames. Importing or exporting frames is also supported, which means that common images (BMP, JPG, GIF and PNG) can be inserted into the newly created animation. All the basic image modification tools are available The program is highly flexible and allows users to adjust their screen recordings by adding frame-by-frame crop, rotate and flip effects. Users that find these options too limiting should also know that Screen To Gif can add sepia, pixelate, blur, negative, color and grayscale filters. And, if all else fails, a "Free drawing" option exists to fully emancipate users' imagination! An interesting option is the "Speed modifier" This allows users to speed up or slow down their animations. This is a perfect method of blurring out irrelevant parts of the animation! An overall great program for generating highly customized animations Screen To Gif is packed with functionality which casual and advanced users will find very nice. There are plenty of features to add particular flavors to output files and the clean interface is really well-suited for the job at hand.
