Studies on the metabolism of methadone in the rat by capillary gas chromatography/mass spectrometry. 1. Methadone and its sulphoxide metabolite were measured in rat urine and tissues by GC/MS. 2. By determination of the ratio of the extracted ion for the [M-H] ions of the two compounds in urine, it was possible to confirm that the reduced metabolite was sulphoxide, and not previously reported methadone-sulphoxide. 3. Both methadone and its reduced metabolite were more polar than the positive ion ionisation target compounds. 1. Field of the Invention The present invention generally relates to an injection molding machine, and more specifically relates to an injection molding machine that includes a drive unit that rotates an injection-molded-article transferring apparatus. 2. Discussion of the Related Art In an injection molding machine, an injection molding machine such as a die clamping apparatus is generally provided with an injection molding apparatus that transfers a molded article, or molded article-material, into a mold to form the molded article. The molded article is injection-molded in the injection molding apparatus. Generally, the molded article, which is injected from a mold cavity, is temporarily stored at a certain position. The time required to transfer the molded article to the mold cavity from this position is referred to as a carry-time. The time necessary for one mold cycle to form a molded article is referred to as a cycle time. The cycle time is proportional to the carry-time. If the carry-time is shortened, the molding efficiency of the injection molding machine improves. As described above, the injection molding machine that transfers the molded article by a rotational movement of a drive unit in the injection molding machine such as a die clamping apparatus is provided with a transfer shaft having a projecting portion at its rotation axis. An injection molding-article transferring apparatus (an injection cylinder and a screw) is supported by this projecting portion. The injection molding-article transferring apparatus which is driven by a drive unit rotates along with the transfer shaft when the molded article is transferred into the mold cavity. The rotation axis of this transfer shaft and the rotation axis of the injection molding-article transferring apparatus coincide with each other. This coincidence of the rotation axis provides a problem. The transfer shaft of the drive unit is supported at a position where it is rotatable around the rotation axis of the drive
