Any suggestions would be appreciated. include '../config/config.php'; $firstname = $_GET['fName']; $lastname = $_GET['lName']; $email = $_GET['Email']; $sql = "UPDATE `users` SET `firstname` = '$firstname', `lastname` = '$lastname', `email` = '$email' WHERE `email` = '$email'"; A: I think you want $sql = "UPDATE `users` SET `firstname` = '$firstname', `lastname` = '$lastname', `email` = '$email' WHERE `email` = '$email'"; Note the WHERE in the UPDATE. Without it, you're going to update every single record in the database. Also, in general, it's a bad idea to update the database directly. You generally go through a function like PDO and do the whole thing from there. Saturday, September 02, 2006 So, if you've been following the interwebs you might have seen this recent news that Men's Universe is looking for an editor for their film site, Our Guys. So in the interest of making a couple of buck, I decided to go for it! If you click on that post it will take you to the newsgroup where you can respond to it, or even start your own thread! I don't know how much you have done with yours, but I for one can't wait to see what you come up with! I've been a Men's Universe member since the beginning so this is actually super exciting! I love all their product but their film section has been sort of neglected, and I'd love to help them out. Though, I'll be putting my 1cb139a0ed
