It's used in a similar way to Instagram 388ed7b0c7

Theoretical physicists change 'theory of everything' after discovery - runeks ====== quesera That is no longer theoretical, and they know it. ~~~ runeks Correct but the theoreticians gave a clue why what you are saying: "A final theory will be an enormous structure. We understand very well what two or three theories can say, but an understanding of the huge structure, I cannot even imagine what it will be like. It will not be possible to say anything about the theory when it is finished. It will appear completely random and will perhaps appear as a beautiful structure." The government of India is preparing to send 400 troops to Syria in order to fight ISIS while the U.S. is currently training Iraqis in anti-ISIS exercises in neighboring Kuwait. While there will likely be setbacks and challenges, it is clear from both Russia and the West that combating ISIS is of paramount importance to the world's largest emerging economic power. Key Takeaways India will send 400 troops to Syria to fight ISIS, and the U.S. is currently training Iraq's military in anti-ISIS drills in Kuwait. President Trump doesn't agree with the premise of why ISIS was formed, and is pessimistic about the region's future after the fall of ISIS. In 2015, ISIS made billions of dollars by selling oil, which is what it is being used to fund its revival in Iraq and Syria today. India's Defense Minister Manohar Parrikar announced that 400 of his country's soldiers were being flown to the Middle East this week in preparation for fighting ISIS. India has no diplomatic relations with the terrorist group. The country already has a military partnership with Pakistan, who remains to this day the only other nation with which India has diplomatic relations with. The presence of these four hundred soldiers will help with training Syria's military against ISIS. The Indian government is playing the same role as the U.S. and its allies in arming and training the Kurdish militias, also known as the SDF in Syria. The Indians will be included in a NATO-led military coalition, which would increase the likelihood that they will be fighting alongside the U.S. in the ground war against ISIS. Meanwhile, India is also the world's third-largest arms importer

Q: How to do get/set in the sorted list? I have a sorted list. How to get the IEnumerable back from the linq query? Since I am sorting MyClass I don't have the field to get back. public static class linqExtensions {

public static IEnumerable OrderBy(this IEnumerable source, string propertyName, string direction) { var index = 0; foreach (var item in source) { var value = GetValue(item, propertyName); if (direction == "ASC") index = (index == 0)? -1 : index == (source.Count - 1)? 1 : index + 1; else index = (index == 0)? 1 : index == (source.Count - 1)? 0 : index - 1; yield return item; } } }

The getvalue method is:

```csharp
public static object GetValue(object obj, string name) { var type = obj.GetType(); string pName = name.Replace(".", "_"); var prop = type.GetProperty(pName, BindingFlags.Public |

BindingFlags.Instance); if (prop!= null) { var casted = prop.GetValue(obj); if (casted == null &&!typeof(Nullable).IsAssignableFrom(type)) { casted = (System.Nullable)(object)prop.GetValue(obj) as System.Nullable;
